DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

1. What am I currently building my life on, and how do I know? What habits, priorities, or fears reveal the foundation I'm trusting?
2. Where have I subtly treated Jesus as optional rather than foundational? In what areas do I resist letting Him set direction for my life?
3. When has Jesus steadied my life, and when has He challenged or disrupted it? How do I typically respond when His words confront my assumptions or desires?
4. What does it mean for me personally to believe in Jesus, not just agree with Him? How is my belief showing up in obedience, trust, and daily decisions?
5. How am I learning to live from my new identity as God's chosen and treasured people? Where am I still defining myself by old labels, failures, or achievements?
6. In what ways is God shaping me to become more like Jesus right now? What practices, relationships, or tensions is He using to form me?
7. What would it look like this week to live openly for Jesus among others? How might my conduct, words, or good deeds point someone toward God's mercy and glory?
